The Only Preparation
HAVING PROOF SO STRONG AND DI-RECT AS TO REPEL THE DOUBTS OF ALL.—For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new,
give it their undivided sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, to the scalp and scalp and scalp; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore. Read the following:

Oak Quill—Dear Sir:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to use it pre-judicially, and give your Hair Restorative a personal test.

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my horse against a rock near the road, from which my head received a most terrible blow, causing a great deal of fracture, and the loss of the scalp and scalp external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was finally destroyed over the entire surface of the head. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of my following the cure, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and, as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy Hair Restorative, which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result; two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I am indebted to your most meritorious Hair Restorative.

Dear Sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little, in your favor.

You can publish this of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.

Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Office of the Jeffersonian, (Philad., Va.)
December 12th, 1858.

Dear Sir—I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstances, which you can use as you think proper.
A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer), has been
bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use your Hair Restorative, and after using it, which he liked very much and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a head-some head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is a very well known and adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give it to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.

THOMPSON SURGICIAN.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire recovery of my hair to your original and only time of my arrival in the United States was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative, it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable.

S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small bottle, at a price, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $5.

POET'S CORNER.

RETROSPECTION.

BY LILLIE.
Like the musical chime
Of some tender old rhyme,
The waves of the sea are kindling the shore
Of the beautiful days forever more.
The sweet, sweet long ago,
When with happy hearts we were free,
We danced along youth's flowery, scented way, Beneath the fading, smiling skies of May.
Oh! the sweet, simple themes
Of the beautiful days,
That we played in, when our hearts were wild and free
As the rippling waves of a summer sea;
And the rippling waves of a summer sea;
Now, like some great old temple ruins, lie In dust and ashes, and the days gone by.
Oh! those were golden hours
When, crowned with leaves and flowers,
We sat beneath some spreading forest tree,
And planned proud dreams of what our lives might be;
The dream of time and space,
Was glittering like a star.
And when we dreamed of golden days
We dreamed of golden days.
To waking a memory in my brain,
A dream that was mingled with bliss and pain;
But now, alas! 'tis over,
And I must goe then by.
Will come, in the beautiful guise of love,
To woo me away, like the wandering dove.

Do all you can, to make those around you happy, and you will have your reward. It will come in the assurance that you have endeavored to do your duty, and the consciousness of the approving smile of your Heavenly Father. See to it, that like the little rain-drop, you faithfully perform your mission.

COSSIN LIZZIE.

Extraordinary Physiological Phenomenon.—The Sight of a Beautiful Blind Girl Restored by Marriage.—A physiological wonder occurred a short time since in this city. A young and exceedingly interesting girl residing on Eighth street, whose amiable disposition, elegant manners and placid beauty of soul had endeared her to all who knew her, was, a year or two ago, compelled to discontinue her studies and leave school in consequence of a partial loss of eyesight that threatened to become total. She was entirely unable to read. A number of our most skillful physicians were employed by the family, and she was even taken to some of our most noted oculists; but all their learning, dexterity and management proved unavailing. Her eyes looked healthy, were beautifully plump in their expression, and seemed deep as her soul was pure, but they were nevertheless to her almost wholly useless. Notwithstanding this rather melancholy physical defect, a young man who had long been devoted to her, offered her his hand in marriage. She became his wife, and strange as it may seem, from that day her eyesight began to improve, and she is now able to read the lines printed by gas light, without pain, and without any apparent optical injury.—N. Y. Exchange.

MISCELLANY.

The Little Rain-drop's Mission.

A STORY FOR ALL THE CHILDREN WHO READ THE COMPILER.

Children, I want you to listen to me, very attentively. I am going to tell you a little story.

Do you know where the little rain-drops live? Well, I will tell you. They live away in the bright blue sky; and I am sure you all think they have a very pleasant home. I know I thought so, when a child, and I have not changed my mind about it yet.

Once upon a time, as all stories begin, there was a little rain-drop, (like a good many children I know, and I am very sorry to say it,) that was dissatisfied; not with its beautiful home among the sunbeams, but because its mission was, to come from its pleasant home, down to our world.

It murmured thus: "I don't want to go down to that great, dark planet. It is very nice to stay here, and watch it rolling around every day, but I am sure, that if I were whirling around with it, I should grow dizzy. And besides, I do not see what good I can do. I am so small that no notice will be taken of me. Oh! if I could only stay here. It is so far away down there, and I know the way is dreary. It makes me shiver to think of it."

But the little rain-drop knew that it murmured in vain, and I think it must have concluded that if it must go, it was better to go at once, for with one, last, lingering look at its lovely home, it started with a right good will upon its mission. It was a mission of love, although the little rain-drop knew it not.

The way was long, but the little rain-drop travelled fast, and the bright sun shining all along its journey made it very pleasant. The little rain-drop had never left its home in the azure sky before, and it had no idea how pleasant a world we live in. It reached the earth in safety and soon a great many of its companions followed it. I do not know whether they came, because of one little rain-drop's good example, or not, but they came, and it was not alone.

Now, where do you think our little rain-drop found a home? Why, right in the bell of a white lily, that raised its drooping leaves to receive the welcome visitor. The grateful lily lifted its head, and regaining its lost beauty and freshness, seemed to breathe forth thanks to the little rain-drop.

This lily was the favorite flower of a delicate little girl in whose garden it grew. When she heard the rain-drop and its companions coming, for they made a great deal of noise, rattling down over the houses, and fences, and through the flowers, and bushes, she went out immediately to look at her lily.

She looked pale and weak as she passed slowly down the garden walk, but when she reached her lily and found it blooming afresh, her pale face was illuminated with a happy smile, and an exclamation of joy burst from her lips, as she went with quickened steps, to hear the glad news to her affectionate mother.

Children, don't you think that if the little rain-drop could have seen that happy face, and heard, and understood that expression of joy, it would have been amply repaid for leaving its lovely home?

Certainly you do, and so do I. Was the rain-drop too small to do any good? Let us see. It refreshed a beautiful lily that was fading away, and that lily being the favorite flower of a sickly child, her heart was made glad when it bloomed afresh. That little girl's mother was sad when her darling child was dejected, and do you not think her fond heart rejoiced when she saw her daughter's smiling face? I know you will all answer, "yes."

Thus we might go on, and trace other pleasing consequences resulting from the little rain-drop's mission, but it would consume too much time, and probably, it would tire your patience. You can see from what I have already told you, that the rain-drop had a mission, and that it performed it faithfully.

And now, children, a few words to you and I am done. Do you know that each and every one of you has a mission to perform? I fancy I hear some of you exclaim, "A mission from me to perform! why what can I do? I am so small!" Yes, my dear child, you have a mission, and that mission is to do good. Your duty is to be obedient to parents, teachers and guardians, and to be kind and affectionate to your brothers, sisters and playmates. Do not think you are too small. That is a bad thought, a suggestion of that Evil One who hates to see any one endeavoring to do good. Remember that beautiful little verse, which says,

"Little deeds of kindness, Little words of love,
Make our earth an Eden
Like the Heaven above."

How do you like that statue of General Jackson?

"How very appropriate!" was the reply.

"How do you make that out?"

"Oh, General Jackson was always at home amongst dead Englishmen!" was the ready answer.

The host subsided.

An old dunkey in Washington, who supposed, from the extraordinary preparations that were being made to receive the Japanese embassy, that it was composed of a superior order of beings, delivered himself thus, after they arrived: "Why they ain't nothin' more'n colored folks, wid der heads shaved. Plenty colored folks in dis town whiter den dey is. Badder not come here. Go 'em foolin' round too much, somebody snake 'em off and sell 'em to New Orleans. De Lord bress us anyhow, niggers is lookin' up."

Brother Ammadah, a stiff Quaker, on receiving from a "worldly man" a snack in the face, turned the other cheek, to which a similar salute was applied. "Friend," said Ammadah, "Scripture's injunction being now satisfied, I will now proceed to administer to thee a little wholesome correction;" and he did.

Remarkable Leap from a Railroad Train.—The Providence Journal states that on Tuesday night week a passenger, excited by drink, leaped from the steamboat train near Richmond, while the cars were running at a speed of nearly a mile a minute. The train was stopped and backed; the baggage-master and others took lanterns and searched the sides of the track, expecting to find a mangled and bruised corpse. After proceeding a short distance the missing man rose up, remarking: "I'm just off the train."

His face was slightly scratched, which was the only injury apparent, but he was completely sobered.

What the Census is Showing.—Some of our cities, which have been indulging in extravagant estimates of their present population, are being disappointed in the results of the census. The aggregate population of Cincinnati will not exceed 150,000. Boston, it is believed, by the journals of that city, will not be so large as was expected. Baltimore has increased 61,000, and has now a population of 220,000. Philadelphia, it is estimated from the returns already made, will be over 650,000, possibly 680,000, as estimated last January by those who published the new directory. The population is not yet given. Its preponderance in Congress depends upon keeping up its population.

It is stated in a late foreign paper that bathing has been found to be a certain cure for pleuro-pneumonia, and that a gentleman in Ireland, who tried the experiment on eight cattle who were infected, saved seven of them by driving them into a bath. The cure is being performed in this manner in different parts of Ireland. It is to be tried in Connecticut.

A home for aged men is a new notion just originated in Boston, and which will soon be practically realized, as $10,000 have been subscribed, out of $30,000 needed. The institution is intended for such aged men, born in Boston, whom the reverses of business or loss of means of support have thrown upon the charity of strangers or the care of impoverished relatives.

Iowa Sugar.—A specimen of sorghum sugar has been shown to the editor of the Independence Citizen, which he pronounces to be as "nice" as any that is brought to market. We learn from the same source that the harvest prospects are good in Iowa.

A lad at Chatham, C. W., last week, enraged that another and smaller boy persisted in following him as he went to pasture for his cows, picked up a club and with one blow felled the other dead.

A recent statement of the number of deaths in the United States by explosions of Fluid Lamps for the past year, fixed it about seven thousand. At first, this might seem incredible, as it is an alarming fact to contemplate if true; but statistics would seem to leave but little room to doubt its correctness.

An English coin, bearing date 1552, and distinctly marked with the name of Queen Elizabeth, was found in the garden of Frederick Cary, near the top of the Blue Ridge at Rockfish Gap, in Virginia.

A farmer in Newport, Horkimer co., killed a cow recently, from which he took a calf which was perfect in every respect except that instead of hoofs, its legs terminated in claws similar to those of a cat.

Mrs. Caleb Brinton, who died at Harrisburg, Pa., on Monday, measured seven feet around the waist—probably the largest woman in the United States.

Strictly True.

An eccentric American was lately visiting an English nobleman at his seat in the south of England. Our fellow countryman has a habit of saying "how very appropriate!" by way of commendation to almost everything he approves of, whether apropos or not.

The statuary around the grounds received this favorable notice so frequently that the host became nettled, and determined to noupus his guest. So stopping before the family burying vault, he pointed to a figure on horseback, and said:

"How do you like that statue of General Jackson?"

"How very appropriate!" was the reply.

"How do you make that out?"

"Oh, General Jackson was always at home amongst dead Englishmen!" was the ready answer.

NO. 41.

A Beautiful Fair.

It is understood that Martin, the Abolition Know-Nothing candidate for Governor, and John Hickman, who expects to be the Abolition candidate for Congress in this district, will commence a stamping campaign through the State, about the 20th of this month.

A beautiful pair of politicians, truly, Martin and Hickman, the Know-Nothing and Abolitionist. Good bye, Johnny. What will those Anti-Fascionites who were duped into your support in '58, now think of your Democracy? We have no doubt they will admit we knew you better than they, when we predicted you were on your way to the Black Republican camp.

And then, Forney and Pearce! How much longer are they to keep up the false flag?—West Chester Jeffersonian.

Economy and Reform.

Upon the books of the Clerk of the House of Representatives, and in his vouchers at the Treasury Department, there stands the following record:

Three pairs of Boots $25.00.

These Boots were sent by Mr. Lincoln's orders to the stationery Clerk at the Capitol, and were drawn by him as "stationery". A trifling explication of economy, retrenchment, and reform, in paying for boots out of the national treasury. This is one of the reasons, perhaps, why his party call him "honest Abe Lincoln."

At the second session of the Congress of which he was a member, "honest Abe Lincoln" procured another pair of boots, which were charged as "stationery" to the United States Treasury. When he was leaving for home, he ordered an extra fine pair at nine dollars, charged also as "stationery," and they were tied up with his books, and forwarded to Hon. Abraham Lincoln, Springfield, Illinois.—Washington City Reporter.

Forney abuses the Democratic State Committee, because, at the late meeting on the 2d inst., they refused to admit the disorganizer Haldeman and others, as substitutes for members who had failed to attend. And yet this scamp, Forney, did the same thing in '56, as appears by the following extract from the record of the Committee of that year, of which he was chairman:

"Mr. Jones presented himself as a substitute for Mr. Murry, in the 16th district. After some discussion, on motion of Mr. Kline, the Committee refused to take any action in the matter of substitutes, and Mr. Jones withdrew."

The Principal teaches this method, in advance of the annual Catalogue and Circular, of announcing that the fifth year of this Institution will be opened on the 1st of September next.
He desires to assure the friends and parents of the College that the same earnest devotion to the work of Female Education which has marked its history thus far, will continue to characterize the operations of the School; and that no pains or expense will be spared to make it all that could be desired by the friends of the cause. The Institution is a Christian home for those entrusted to its care.
The College edifice and grounds.—The location of the College, on the Northern Central Railroad, six miles from Baltimore, has been selected as one of the most desirable in the State.
The grounds include twenty-one acres of excellent land, and are ornamented with a beautiful woodland of several acres. In the midst of which, on an elevated and highly desirable site, is located the College edifice, four stories in height.
The building is constructed of brick, occupies an area of 200 feet in circumference, and is surrounded by a wide and beautiful veranda, has ample accommodations for one hundred boarders, and presents a very striking and imposing appearance. The location is highly salubrious and picturesque, and commands a delightful view of the surrounding country.
The internal arrangements are complete, and are all that could be desired. There are thirty-two rooms in all, eight of which are very spectacular. In the tank left are two reservoirs, with a capacity of 3,000 gallons; and from these, the entire supply of water is derived. The building is supplied with pure water. All the apartments are provided with registers for ventilation, and the admission of warm air, in the winter season, from large brick furnaces.— The College is also supplied with a fine orchard, and a variety of other fruit trees, and the residence will be offered to suit purchasers.
The opportunity to purchase property so desirable is rarely offered and the attention of those wishing to invest is called to it.
Persons desiring to view the property are requested to call on the subscriber, or on either of the Executors, on the 18th day of August next, at 1 o'clock, P. M., on said day, when attendance will be given and terms made known by JOHN MORITZ,

The Only Preparation
HAVING PROOF SO STRONG AND DI-RECT AS TO EXPEL THE DOUBTS OF
ALL. For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new doctors, who can use it with perfect propriety and for all cases of eruptions and disorders of the scalp and hair; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the
hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore. Read the following:
"During the year 1884, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of friction, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was falling out, and over the entire surface of the head. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and all other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy Hair Restorative, which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result; two months after the first application I had a head of hair as thick and as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my most sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear Sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all
inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself say, is not a little.
You can publish this with my consent.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Office of the Jeffersonian, Philadelphia, Pa.,
December 12th, 1888.
DEAR SIR:—I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstances: I am under the impression that a gentleman of this place, (a lawyer), has been
bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he used twice a day, and after using one or two bottles his hair began to grow, and quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give it to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c., THOMPSON STRONGHORN.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir:—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your "Hair Restorative" it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your bottle the medium health at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retail quite efficacious as very agreeable.
S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small bottle is a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle, the medium bottle at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retail
for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3.

Mr. W. E. Shiner, Dear Sir:—I have given excellent remedy, and ought to be in every fam-places it within the reach of all. I have
